1. User Story 1
   As a user, I want to display information about myself so that website visitors can learn more about my experience and skills.

   Acceptance criteria
   1. Static webpage built with HTML + CSS. You can use any CSS library to style the page.
   2. The page should have a heading with your name
   3. The page should have a subheading with your current role or position
   4. Under the subheading, the page should have two columns; one column contains a picture of yourself and the other column contains a brief description/bio.
   5. Under the image + description section, you should have a "Contact me" section with contact information.

Note:
Please see seminar2-samples for inspiration